

Aya Fubara Eneli

Aya Fubara Eneli is a versatile force, blending legal expertise, academic leadership, fundraising and nonprofit leadership and a profound commitment to social justice and community service. As a seasoned attorney, she has channeled her legal acumen into vital areas, including domestic violence, estate planning, and education law, demonstrating a deep commitment to societal well-being.

In academia, Aya's role as a university administrator has been dedicated to enhancing the recruitment and retention of under-represented populations, emphasizing inclusivity in education. Her influence extends beyond academia, seamlessly integrating into the corporate sphere through her expertise in diversity training. Aya's engagements with businesses, government entities, and law enforcement underscore her dedication to fostering diverse and inclusive environments.

As a life coach, Aya guides business executives toward success, infusing her coaching philosophy with a holistic approach that transcends the boardroom, focusing on personal and professional development, resilience, and self-love.

A trailblazer in youth empowerment, Aya founded and facilitates mentoring and leadership programs, instilling values of resilience, ambition, and compassion in the leaders of tomorrow. Her impact further extends through her inspirational newspaper column, "Live Your Abundant Life," which has provided guidance to readers navigating life's challenges for fifteen years.

As the CEO of Aya Eneli International, Aya spearheads an organization dedicated to leadership and success strategies, impacting individuals and professionals in 44 states and thirteen countries. Her commitment to community service is exemplified by her involvement on numerous nonprofit boards as well as her political activism. Aya's dedication to societal betterment is recognized in academia, where she has been featured in "An Encyclopedia of Path-Breaking Women" at The Ohio State University.

In addition to her extensive achievements, Aya is also a prolific author, having penned four books that reflect her wisdom and guidance. Her literary contributions serve as a testament to her commitment to empowering individuals and communities, offering insights into navigating life's complexities and embracing abundance.

Her influence goes well beyond the written word, as Aya has been featured in various media outlets, including MSNBC, ABC, PBS, Entrepreneur magazine, Black Enterprise, the Columbus Dispatch and the Detroit Free Press, solidifying her status as a prominent figure in the personal development and empowerment space

QUICK FACTS ABOUT AYA FUBARA ENELI

- ✓ Aya Fubara Eneli is the founder of Kaneli international Inc. and CEO of Aya Eneli since 1999.
- ✓ She also had roles at The Ohio State University, Central Michigan University, the College of Staten Island (CUNY), the Vermilion County State Attorney's Office, before creating her own business entities.
- ✓ Her work in law, education and the community has earned her various awards from numerous organizations and countries including a place in the International Who's Who of Entrepreneurs, as well as recognition as an Honored Member of the International Executive Guild.
- ✓ Aya's nickname, the "Abundant Life Coach," reflects her passion for helping others unlock their full potential. Her expertise extends beyond traditional coaching as she is also a certified diversity trainer.

✓ A past president of Rotary International in Belton Texas, the wife and mother of five is a supporter of various causes, like providing educational scholarships for students in Nigeria, facilitating leadership programs for youth, including Intelligent & Talented Girls (IT Girls) which has served over 350 youth in Central Texas and founding the first operational public library in Opobo, Nigeria, the Emma Johnson Dirigo Wari.

✓ Aya Fubara Eneli is a dynamic life coach and speaker delivering keynotes and workshops across the US and the world.

PERSONAL LIFE:

Born to Alabo Professor D.M.J. Fubara and Alabota Dr. Vinolia Fubara in Columbus, Ohio, Aya's journey to becoming an international thought leader began at a young age. She first graced television screens at the tender age of four, and at eight years old, she delivered the keynote speech for the Federal Republic of Nigeria's national celebration of the International Year of the Child. A graduate of Federal Government College Enugu in Nigeria, her exceptional educational journey at The Ohio State University is a testament to her unwavering commitment to excellence, earning her not one but four degrees in just seven years, including two Bachelor of Arts degrees in Political Science and English, a Master's degree in Black Studies, and a Juris Doctorate.

In addition to her professional contributions, advocacy and leadership, Aya is an avid gardener, growing food for her family and community. She is also a fitness enthusiast and has participated in marathon and body building contests.

Aya resides in Central Texas with her husband, Dr. Kenechukwu Eneli, and their five children.

Education and Certifications:

- Juris Doctorate, The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law (1996)
- Master of Arts in Black Studies, The Ohio State University (1996)
- Bachelor of Arts in English, The Ohio State University (1993)
- Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, The Ohio State University (1993)

Certifications:

- Certified Diversity Trainer, The Professional Woman
- Certified Speaker and Trainer, John Maxwell Leadership Academy
- Certified Christian Life Coach, Light University Online
- Nonprofit Executive Management Certification, Indiana University – Purdue University Indiana
- Licensed Life and Health Insurance Agent

CLIENTS

Aya Fubara Eneli has connected with diverse clients, including prestigious educational institutions, governmental bodies, faith-based organizations, and community entities. Her impact resonates globally, transforming lives and organizations. Some of her clients include: The Ohio State University, University of Texas-Austin, Michigan Department of Career Development, Flint School District, Rivers State University of Science and Technology, City of Mt. Pleasant Police Department, First National Bank, etc

In summary, Aya Fubara Eneli emerges as a luminary figure, seamlessly navigating the realms of law, academia, diversity training, coaching, fundraising and community service. Her life's work reflects a commitment to empowerment, inclusivity, the empowerment for individuals and communities alike.

Experience the transformative power of Aya Fubara Eneli's insights and wisdom. For speaking engagements, collaborations, or more information, please contact: CoachAya@ayaeneli.com

Connect with Aya Fubara Eneli:  www.ayaeneli.com

Instagram.com/AyaEneli

 linkedin.com/in/ayaeneli

 Facebook.com/AyaEneli

